

Acknowledgements

The Nepean HACC Access Project would like to acknowledge and thank the Northern Sydney NESB HACC Access Project for giving permission to reproduce the text from their booklet "Home and Community Care Services (HACC Services) in the Northern Sydney Region: A Consumer & Carer Handbook" © 2003 and making it available to HACC consumers in this area. The handbook has been amended to reflect HACC services in the Penrith, Blue Mountains and Hawkesbury Local Government Areas.

The Nepean HACC Access Project would also like to thank the Cumberland/Prospect HACC Access Project for additional information and support. Acknowledgement and thanks to the Department of Ageing, Disability and Home Care for contributing to the cost of translating and printing the handbook.

Many thanks to Phil Somerville for the cartoons produced for the Nepean HACC Access Project for this booklet.

And finally our sincere thanks to the working party consisting of local service providers/organisations for giving up their time and expertise to ensure the accuracy of the Handbook.

The Nepean HACC Access Project is funded by the Department of Ageing, Disability and Home Care through the Home and Community Care (HACC) Program and is a project of TRI Community Exchange Inc.

In NSW the Home and Community Care (HACC) Program is jointly funded by Commonwealth and State governments.

Contents

- 1 Home and Community Care (HACC Services)
- 2 How HACC Services can assist
- 3 HACC Services available
- 6 Health HACC Services
- 8 How to contact a service
- 9 Using the Telephone Interpreting Service (TIS)
- 12 Meeting a service with an interpreter
- 13 What happens when you contact a service?
- 14 Your information (confidentiality)
- 14 How much will the service cost?
- 15 What if I am not happy with the service provided?
- 17 Can someone else speak on my behalf?
- 18 What are my rights?
- 20 What are my responsibilities?
- 21 More information or assistance